Aloy is curious, determined, and intent on uncovering the mysteries of her world. Shunned by her own tribe since birth, she has learned to harness her agility, cunning, and deadly aim to hunt the machines and survive in the unforgiving wilds.

Aloy has freckles on her nose, cheeks, and forehead. The only make-up she applies is a dark eyeliner.
Aloy's hair and braids are partially draped over her shoulders.
Aloy wears her Focus on the right side of her face.
Aloy's hair consists of seven rolls coming from her hairline. The three top rolls gather together in the back of her head as a bun, and go down as a very big, yet subtle ponytail that blends in with the rest of her hair.
Aloy's is wearing a linen undersuit, a hide top and a fur pelt draped around her shoulders.
To decorate and personalize her outfit, Aloy wears several items around her collar.

The necklaces closer to her neck are made from braided or coiled leather.

The exception is a single anodized cable, which loops around her neck twice and still has copper connectors attached.

The lower three necklaces are made from wooden beads, dyed with crude pigment.
Aloy’s bracers consist of a layer of hide wrapped around the arm, on top of which an upside-down fur pelt is placed to cushion the third layer: a plate from a machine.
The metal plates on Aloy's bracers are harvested during a machine hunt, and show wear and tear – mainly edge wear where the coating is stripped away and the metal underneath shows, but also light scratching.
Aloy’s skirt is made of brain tanned hide with a linen and twine trim. The flaps of the skirt are tucked under her belt, which consists of multiple smaller leather belts and a sash made of red silk.
To carry resources and crafting material, Aloy uses several leather pouches that are attached to her belt, together with a rope and her quiver.
Aloy's pants are made of leather panels. Her knee plate is harvested from a machine and kept in place by a leather tie.

Aloy’s shoes are made of rough leather stitched carefully to fit Aloy’s feet snugly. They are ideal for climbing and sneaking.
Like her bracers, Aloy’s knee guard is a small plate harvested from a machine. It is held into place with braided blue cord and a leather tie.
Aloy’s bow mixes hand-crafted materials such as wood with machine elements.
The bow is decorated with colored feathers and beads.
